

Value Orientations and Political Actions in Jordan

March 2016

INSTRUCTION TO INTERVIEWER: THIS INTRODUCTION MUST BE READ TO EACH RESPONDENT BEFORE BEGINNING THE INTERVIEW:

Hello. I am from the Center for Strategic Studies at the University of Jordan. We are carrying out academic research in Jordan on what people value in life. This research will interview a nationally representative sample of the population in the country. Your home address has been selected randomly as part of a representative sample of the people living in Jordan.

We are seeking your permission to ask your opinion on topics such as families, politics, culture, and various other attributes of individual and family life. For example, we might ask you about how satisfied you are these days, the importance of university education for women, or the importance of democracy. Please be assured that there is no right or wrong answer to any of these questions. Your help is extremely important because it will contribute to a better understanding of what people around the world believe and want out of life.

Your answers will be kept completely confidential. Your identifying information will be kept in a separate, secure location from your survey responses and will be linked only by an arbitrary identification number. We believe there is no risk to you for taking part in this study. Any answers you give will be combined with the responses of all other participants. This means that no one will be able to trace the identities of any of our individual participants. The results of this research will be used for academic purposes only and will be disseminated in scholarly journals and presentations. This research may be indirectly beneficial to you because it contributes to the development of the social sciences and to public policy in Jordan.

This interview will take about an hour or so and I want to assure you that it is completely voluntary and confidential. If we should come to any question that you do not want to answer, please let me know and we will go on to the next question. There is no penalty for not participating or for refusing to answer any question. You may stop the interview at any time.

We may contact you in the future about an opportunity to participate in a follow-up discussion about some of the same topics raised in the questions I'll be asking you today. Again, participation in any subsequent interview would be completely voluntary and confidential.

Do you have any questions to ask me? Do you agree to participate?

If you want to know more about the study, you can call_____.
